Rest For A Weary Soul Daily Devotional - Friday, November 7, 2008

Praise the Lord and Good Evening,

I started out writing this devotional on Friday, but by the time it's ready to go out, it will technically be Saturday. I thought about how it still feels the same, but the change was official and it is morning. 11:59 pm feels about the same as 12:01 am, but the change still occurred. It might not look like a new day but it's a new day!

It's amazing to me how the Lord works at times. There are seasons when we pray and seek the Lord and practically instantaneously, we see results. And then there are seasons when we pray and seek the Lord but nothing seems to have changed. But somewhere along the line, God has answered. There's been a spiritual shift in things. We might not always recognize the change, but that change has been recorded. It might not be glowing at the moment, but somewhere the Lord has seen, heard and answered...and somewhere in your life, the new day is rising to the point where you will see it. Until then, consider it to be 12:01 and counting.

If God said it's a new day, I don't care how dark it is outside, it's a new day for you.

For his anger endureth but a moment; in his favour is life: weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning. (Psalm 30:5 KJV)

Matt 11:28-29 Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.
29 Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls.
