

Monday, September 12, 2005 - Overflow

Praise the Lord and Good morning,

This past weekend has been absolutely awesome. I attended a church convention in Indianapolis, IN and was tremendously blessed. And this morning I'm still feeling the effects of the weekend. All I can say is that I'm standing in the overflow of the presence of God. Service was so good that I can't stop thinking about it.....the thought comes to mind.....overflow.....so much so that the things the Lord has been dealing with me on to do consistently, I am doing NOW. I told my husband last night that it is a terrible thing to go through a moving service and not experience a change.....to walk away from the presence of the Lord and not desire more....I'm not talking about sinners doing this...I'm talking about saints.....we need change too....we need to grab a hold of God's word so much so to the point that when we leave, we still experience overflow. God's presence doesn't come around to impress you, but to change you.....remember when Moses came down from the mountain and his face glowed? That was overflow.....remember when David danced before the Lord with all of his might and when he got home his wife told him off about his praise? His response was that he would praise God even more.....why because he was in overflow.....

What will you do today with your overflow? Don't clean it up, don't let it evaporate, don't let it slip away.....build on that overflow....if He's given you something to do.....step out and begin while you are in the overflow.....

Psalms 23:5c

*Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over.
